ARIZONA MATTERS....

Interesting Bits of Information Gathered from All Parts of the State.

Governor McCord will deliver the 4th of July oration to the people of Graham county at Safford.

There will be 200 carloads of melons shipped from Phoenix to the Chicago markets this year.

H. M. Chapman, secretary of the Phoenix Board of Trade, is advertising Arizona through the eastern states.

The sheriffs of Arizona and New Mexico will meet with the sheriffs of the Texas panhandle counties at El Paso on or about July 15.

The Colorado river is booming and the pumping plant of the Arizona and New England Mining Company at Pyramid is in danger of being washed out.

The survey for the railroad from Seligman to Hillsdale mine will be completed about July 1, and the building of the road commenced as soon as possible.

No wonder our young couples of Bisbee are marrying and promising to marry each other. These gorgeous poetic, moonlight nights are potent enough to make a man fall in love with his wife.—Herald.

Flagstaff is arranging a mid-summer carnival to take place August 6 to 11. An interesting program is assured, and a great many people from all over the territory will visit the popular resort during that time.

It is proposed to make a national forest preserve of the Santa Catalinas. There is no better location in the Bocky Mountain region as a preserve for wild animals, such as the government is endeavoring to protect from total extinction.

A 3,100-pound steer raised in Iowa has been purchased by the International Stock Food Co., of Minneapolis, Minn., and will be exhibited at fairs and stock shows for advertising purposes. The animal is over six feet in height, is three years old, and during last year gained 1,000 pounds.

The National Live Stock Ass'n has taken in hand the matter of the abolition of the usual holdup in the guise of state inspection on the interstate movement of cattle, which is falling heavy on men who have bought stuff for the northwestern ranges. The rule has been to make stockmen pay a Colorado or Kansas inspector for inspecting cattle passing through those states, that had already been inspected by government authority at point of origin. The object of this is simply to get the fees, and it is an outrage that should be stopped. If such a system of double inspection is necessary, it should be paid by the state that demands it.—Ex.

Ex-sheriff Owens, familiarly known as Commodore Owens, and one of the well known figures in the early history of Arizona, paid his friends in Williams a call the early part of the week. While sheriff of Apache county Commodore Owens took desperate chances many times in discharging his duties as an officer of the law, and it is often recalled by those who knew him well, of the bravery he displayed when he, unassisted, successfully withstood six renegades who had sought the protection of an old hut, ferreted the gang out and killed them all. Owens is now located at Seligman.—Williams News.

Would Not Suffer So Again for Fifty Times Its Price.

I awoke last night with severe pains my stomach. I never felt so badly in all my life. When I came down to work this morning I felt so weak I could hardly work. I went to Miller & McCurdy's drug store and they recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It worked like magic and one dose fixed me alright. It certainly is the finest thing I ever used for stomach trouble. I shall not be without it in my home hereafter, for I should not care to endure the sufferings of last night again for fifty times its price.—G. H. WILSON, Livertyman, Burgettstown, Washington Co., Pa. This remedy is for sale by F. J. Watron, Druggist.

HUNDRED THOUSAND

Appropriated by Congress for Irrigation Surveys.

The Amount Doubled over that Allowed Last year.

Friends of Irrigation Made a Strong Fight in Congress.

Always alert in the interests of the arid west, Senator Carter made an able defense of the item in the sundry civil bill of $250,000 for irrigation surveys and investigation by the Geological Survey during the closing days of congress. Last year's appropriation for this work was $50,000 and when it was proposed to increase this amount this year, first to $100,000 and then to $250,000, it of course raised a storm of objections from senators who fail to comprehend the vital importance of irrigation to the arid region. After strong urging by western senators the $250,000 was voted by the Senate, but unfortunately this was cut down by the House to the original increase proposed of $100,000, which amount will be expended by the Survey during the coming year on this much needed work. The action of the House, however, shows the necessity of the West to stand together and present one solid front and be bold and aggressive in its demands if it is desired to get rightful recognition from eastern congressmen on these questions of supreme import to the arid region.

"The question is," said Senator Carter, in the course of his remarks, "does this appropriation go to the acquisition of information on some subject of consequence to the people? Let us see.

A THOUSAND MILLION ACRES.

"There are seventeen states and territories in the arid and semiarid region of the United States. Those seventeen states and territories today have a population of about three million and a half. In those states and territories there are 992,617,600 acres of land. Of that acreage but 30 per cent. has passed into private ownership; the government of the United States is the owner of 70 per cent. The extent to which these lands can be reclaimed is dependent upon the water supply. The manner of reclamation is dependent upon a knowledge of the volume of water available. No intelligent system of development can be prosecuted until we know the water available for irrigation purposes. The facts are of supreme importance to the people living now and to live hereafter on two fifths of the American continent.

"Mr. President, while we are voting here $55,000,000 for various purposes, all of them national, all of them proper, raising certain appropriations to considerable limits, making additions for river and harbor appropriations in the aggregate of over $12,000,000 in the bill, and senators from the arid regions acquiesce in these appropriations because they are national and beneficial, does it seem right comprehension of a great situation to challenge an item in the bill intended to secure needed and absolutely necessary information in order to deal with problems involving the very life of the country itself? We have reached the point in that arid region where we can not now, without the investment of very large capital, invite any large increase of immigrants to settle upon our soil.

"Hundreds of people are passing each and every day upon loaded trains over as fertile land as ever the sun shown upon, going over the Rocky Mountains and off to the humid regions of the Pacific coast. Why? Because in the state of Montana where we have 146,000 square miles, people have taken out nearly all of the water and reclaimed nearly all of the land that individual effort is capable of reclaiming.

NEED OF OFFICIAL SURVEYS.

"There are instances in California where large enterprises went in and

DR PRICE'S BAKING POWDER

Is a pure baking powder—no alum, lime or ammonia.

No acid but that from grapes—which is pure, pleasant and healthful—enters into Dr. Price's Baking Powder.

Fruit acids are accounted by hygienists the most important of the elements of the food of man, and of these the acid of the grape is most prominent.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is not only the most efficient and perfect of leavening agents, but owing to its constituents is likewise promotive of health.

PRICE BAKING POWDER CO., CHICAGO.

NOTE.—There are many cheap baking powders made of alum. Liebig, the celebrated chemist, says that alum disorders the stomach and causes acidity and dyspepsia.

constructed heavy canals and subsequently found that the water supply was wholly inadequate to supply the canal. This has been discouraging to investment in this line. What we need with reference to this matter is specific, authoritative, substantial information, vouched for by the public records of the United States.

"It is said, let private individuals do it. According to that suggestion the farmer living out on the Yellowstone is to build a gauge for the benefit of humanity, and is to determine the flow of water that runs down that stream in twelve months.

Why not, on the same principle, let sailors survey the coasts and establish lighthouses for their own guidance? To suggest that is to declare that nothing shall be done at all.

"Are the new struggling states, wherein the Government of the United States owns 70 per cent. of the soil, and is the great landowner of the country, to be charged with the expense of acquiring information which is of equal value to Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska, and all the states below? I think not. It is a government enterprise, looking to the development of government property, looking to the creation of conditions which will develop a superb population where waste places now exist."

EASTERN OPPOSITION.

Senator Turner, of Washington, who strongly favored the increase struck a responsive chord when he asserted that some eastern senators were prone to antagonize measures because apparently they were intended to benefit the West.

"I consider the amendment," he said, "as exceedingly important to the arid region. But I notice that nothing is ever offered in this body in the interests of that section that some senator from the eastern seaboard, whose section has been amply provided for, does not discover that the work could better be done by somebody else than the particular person to whom it is proposed to be intrusted or he discovers that we are going into a reckless method of appropriation which ought to be suddenly stopped at a point where the interests of the West require consideration."

California Consolidated Petroleum Company.

This is an age of consolidation and the California Consolidated Petroleum Company is born of this successful principle. The "ten-cent" oil companies are of few days and full of trouble. They must strike oil in their first wells or bust, for with their money gone in a dry hole their stock is killed. If they survive they will be swallowed by the California Consolidated or the Standard, for such is the history of the oil business. There is only room for two oil concerns like the California Consolidated and the Standard on the Pacific coast. These two giants will inevitably control the oil business of California, and it is those wise enough to see this who are buying the stock of the California Consolidated Petroleum Company, which stock is likely, ere long, to make its holders rich. Already the stocks of a few other oil companies, bought at a nominal figure, are worth on the market several hundred dollars per share, and the time is not far distant when a small block of this stock may mean a competence to the fortunate owner. Certain it is that the present price will soon be doubled, and those desiring non-assessable oil stock in a solid company, backed by solid men, will do well to carefully read the company's ad. which appears in this issue.

Stock redeemable on demand at any time within thirty days from date of certificate. All money paid in installments refunded on demand at any time within thirty days from date of first payment. If you do not want your stock, send to Company and you will promptly get every cent of your money back.
